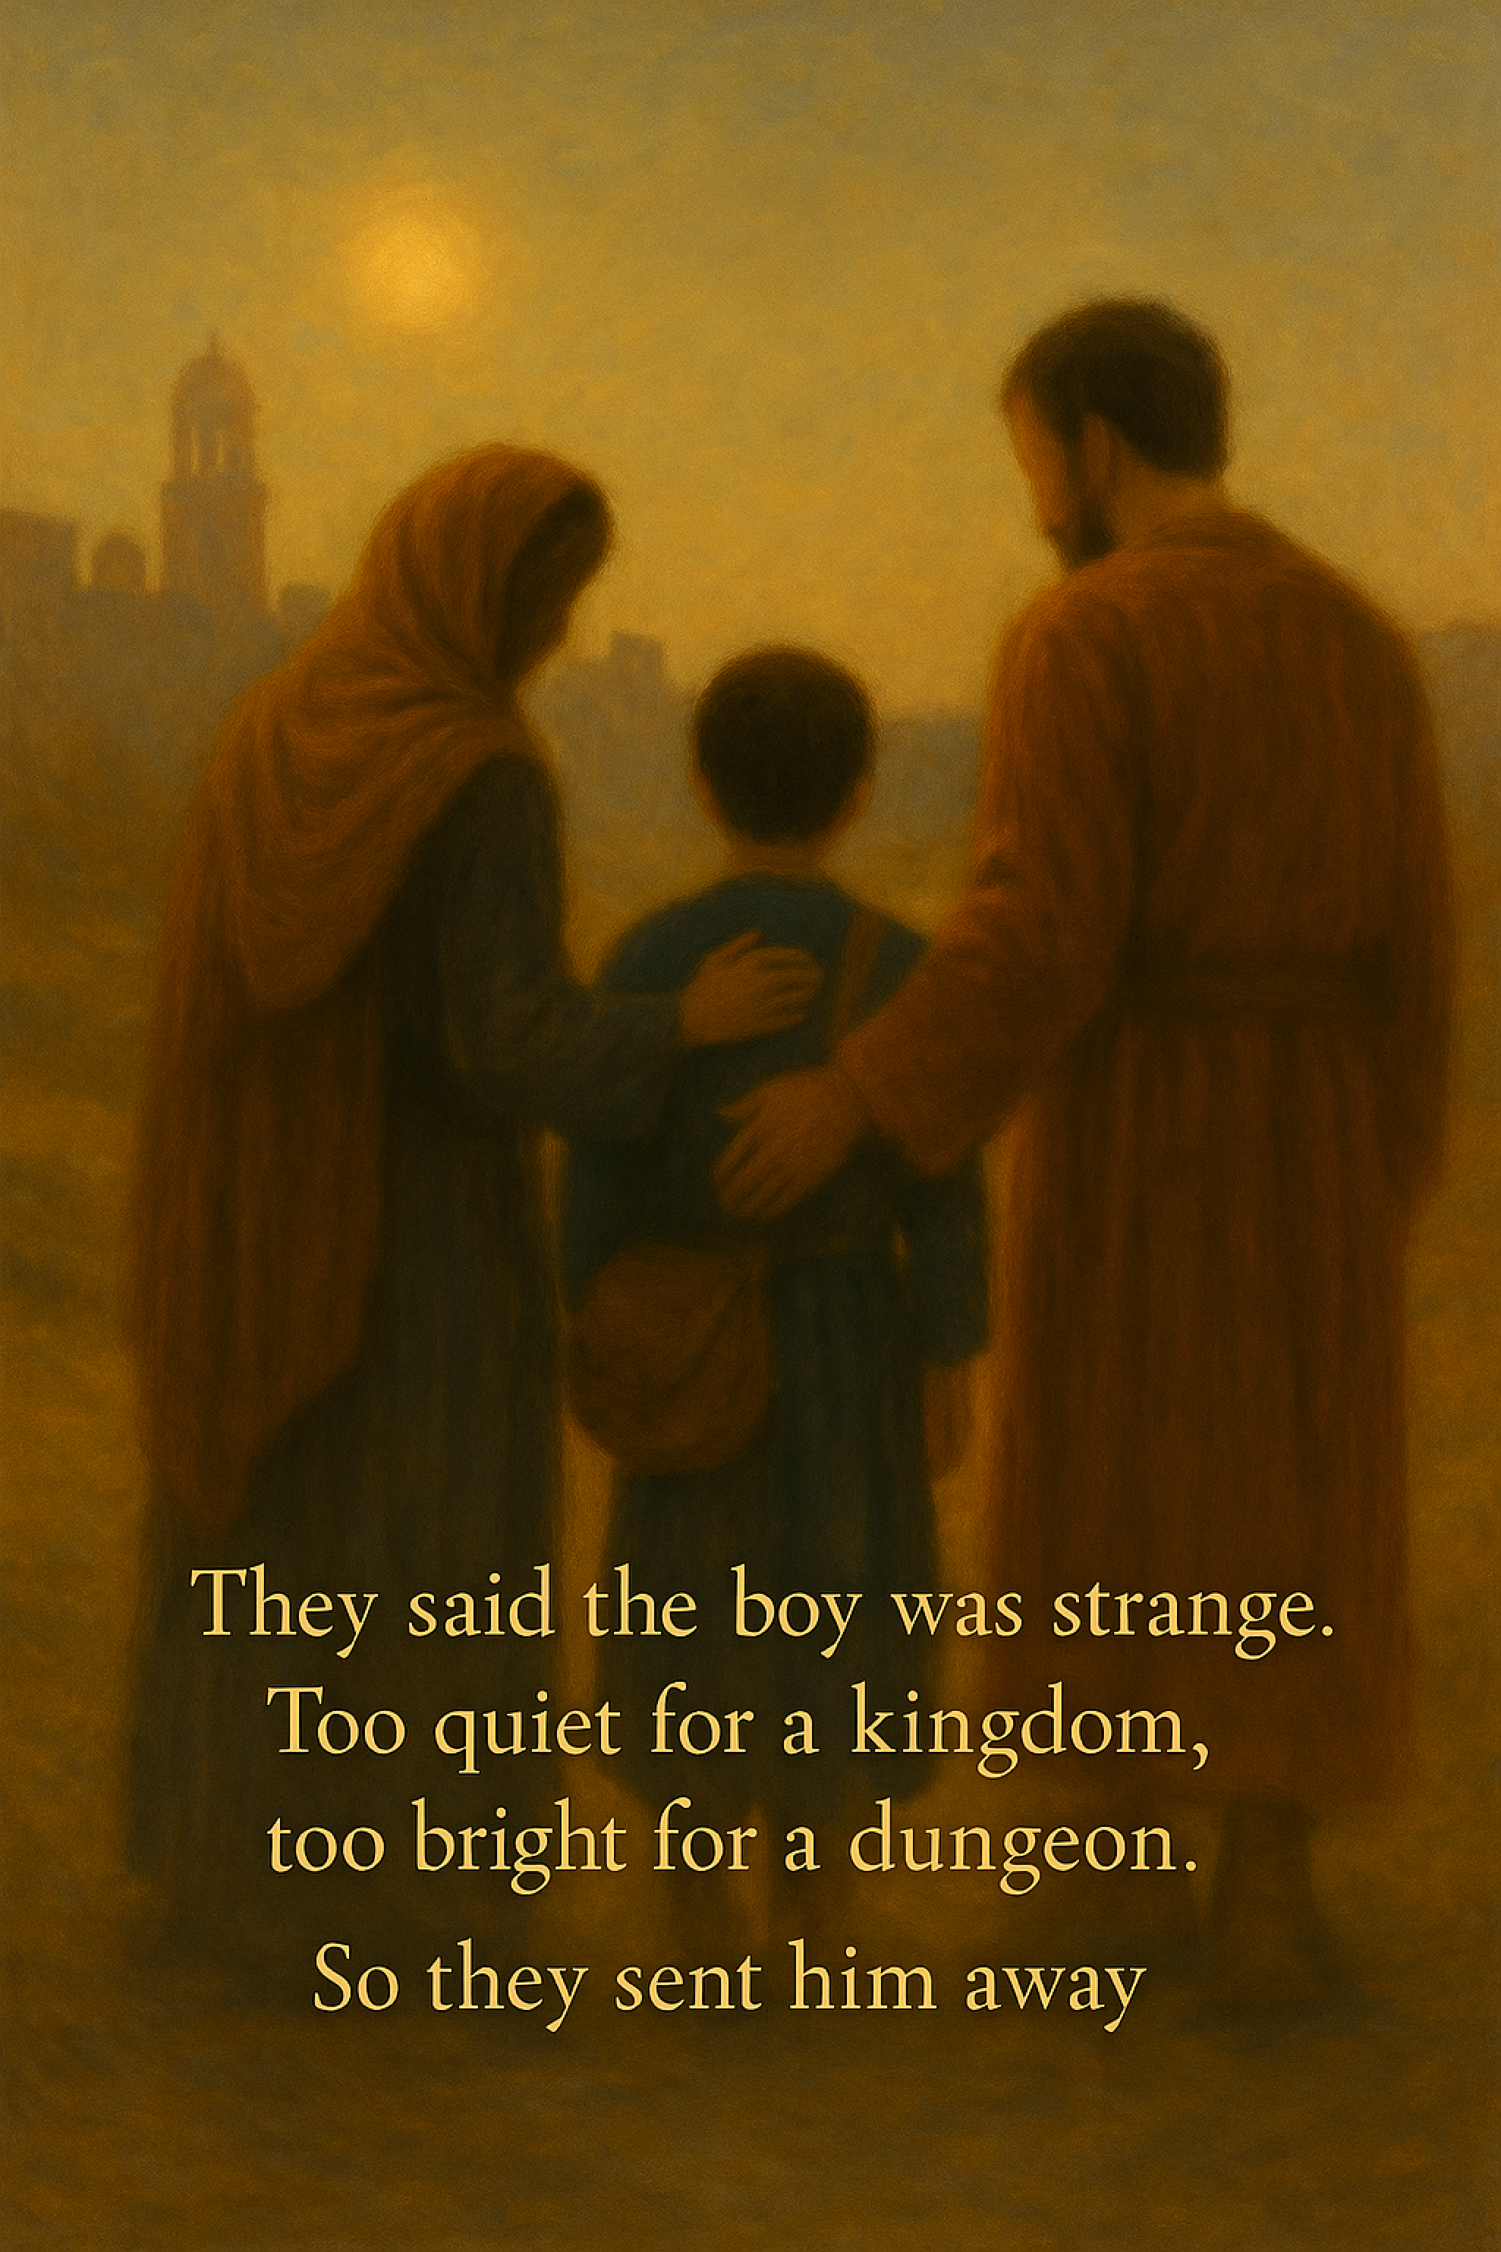
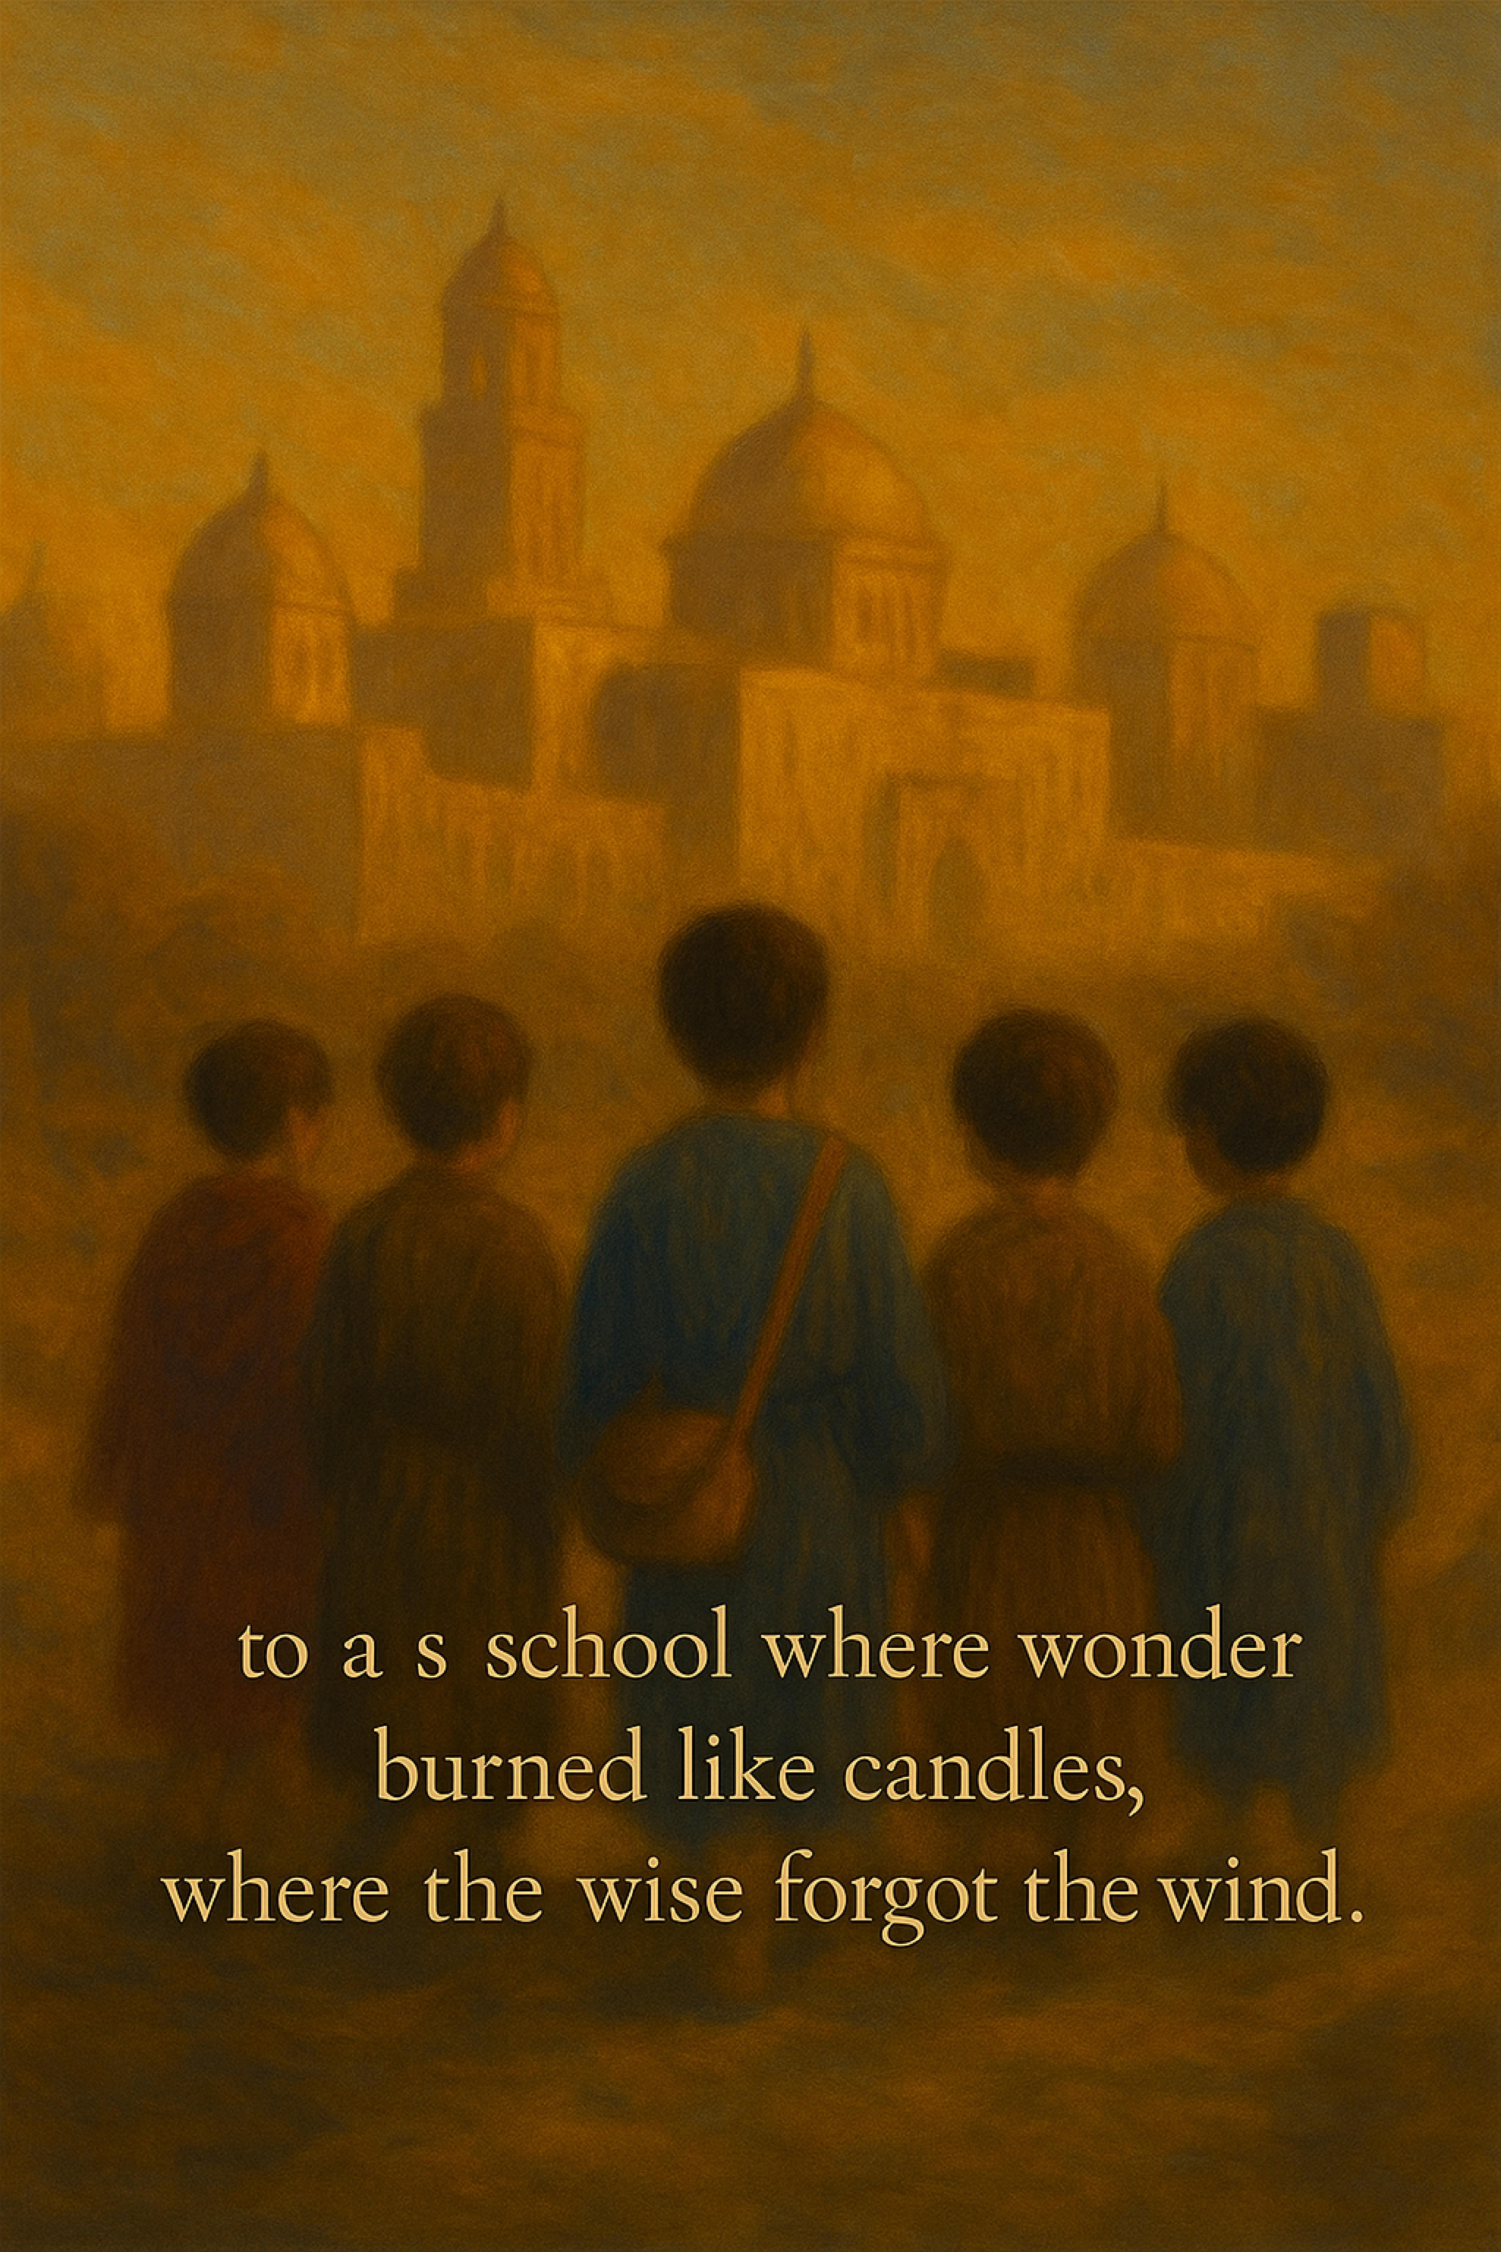
FANTASTIC
BEASTS™

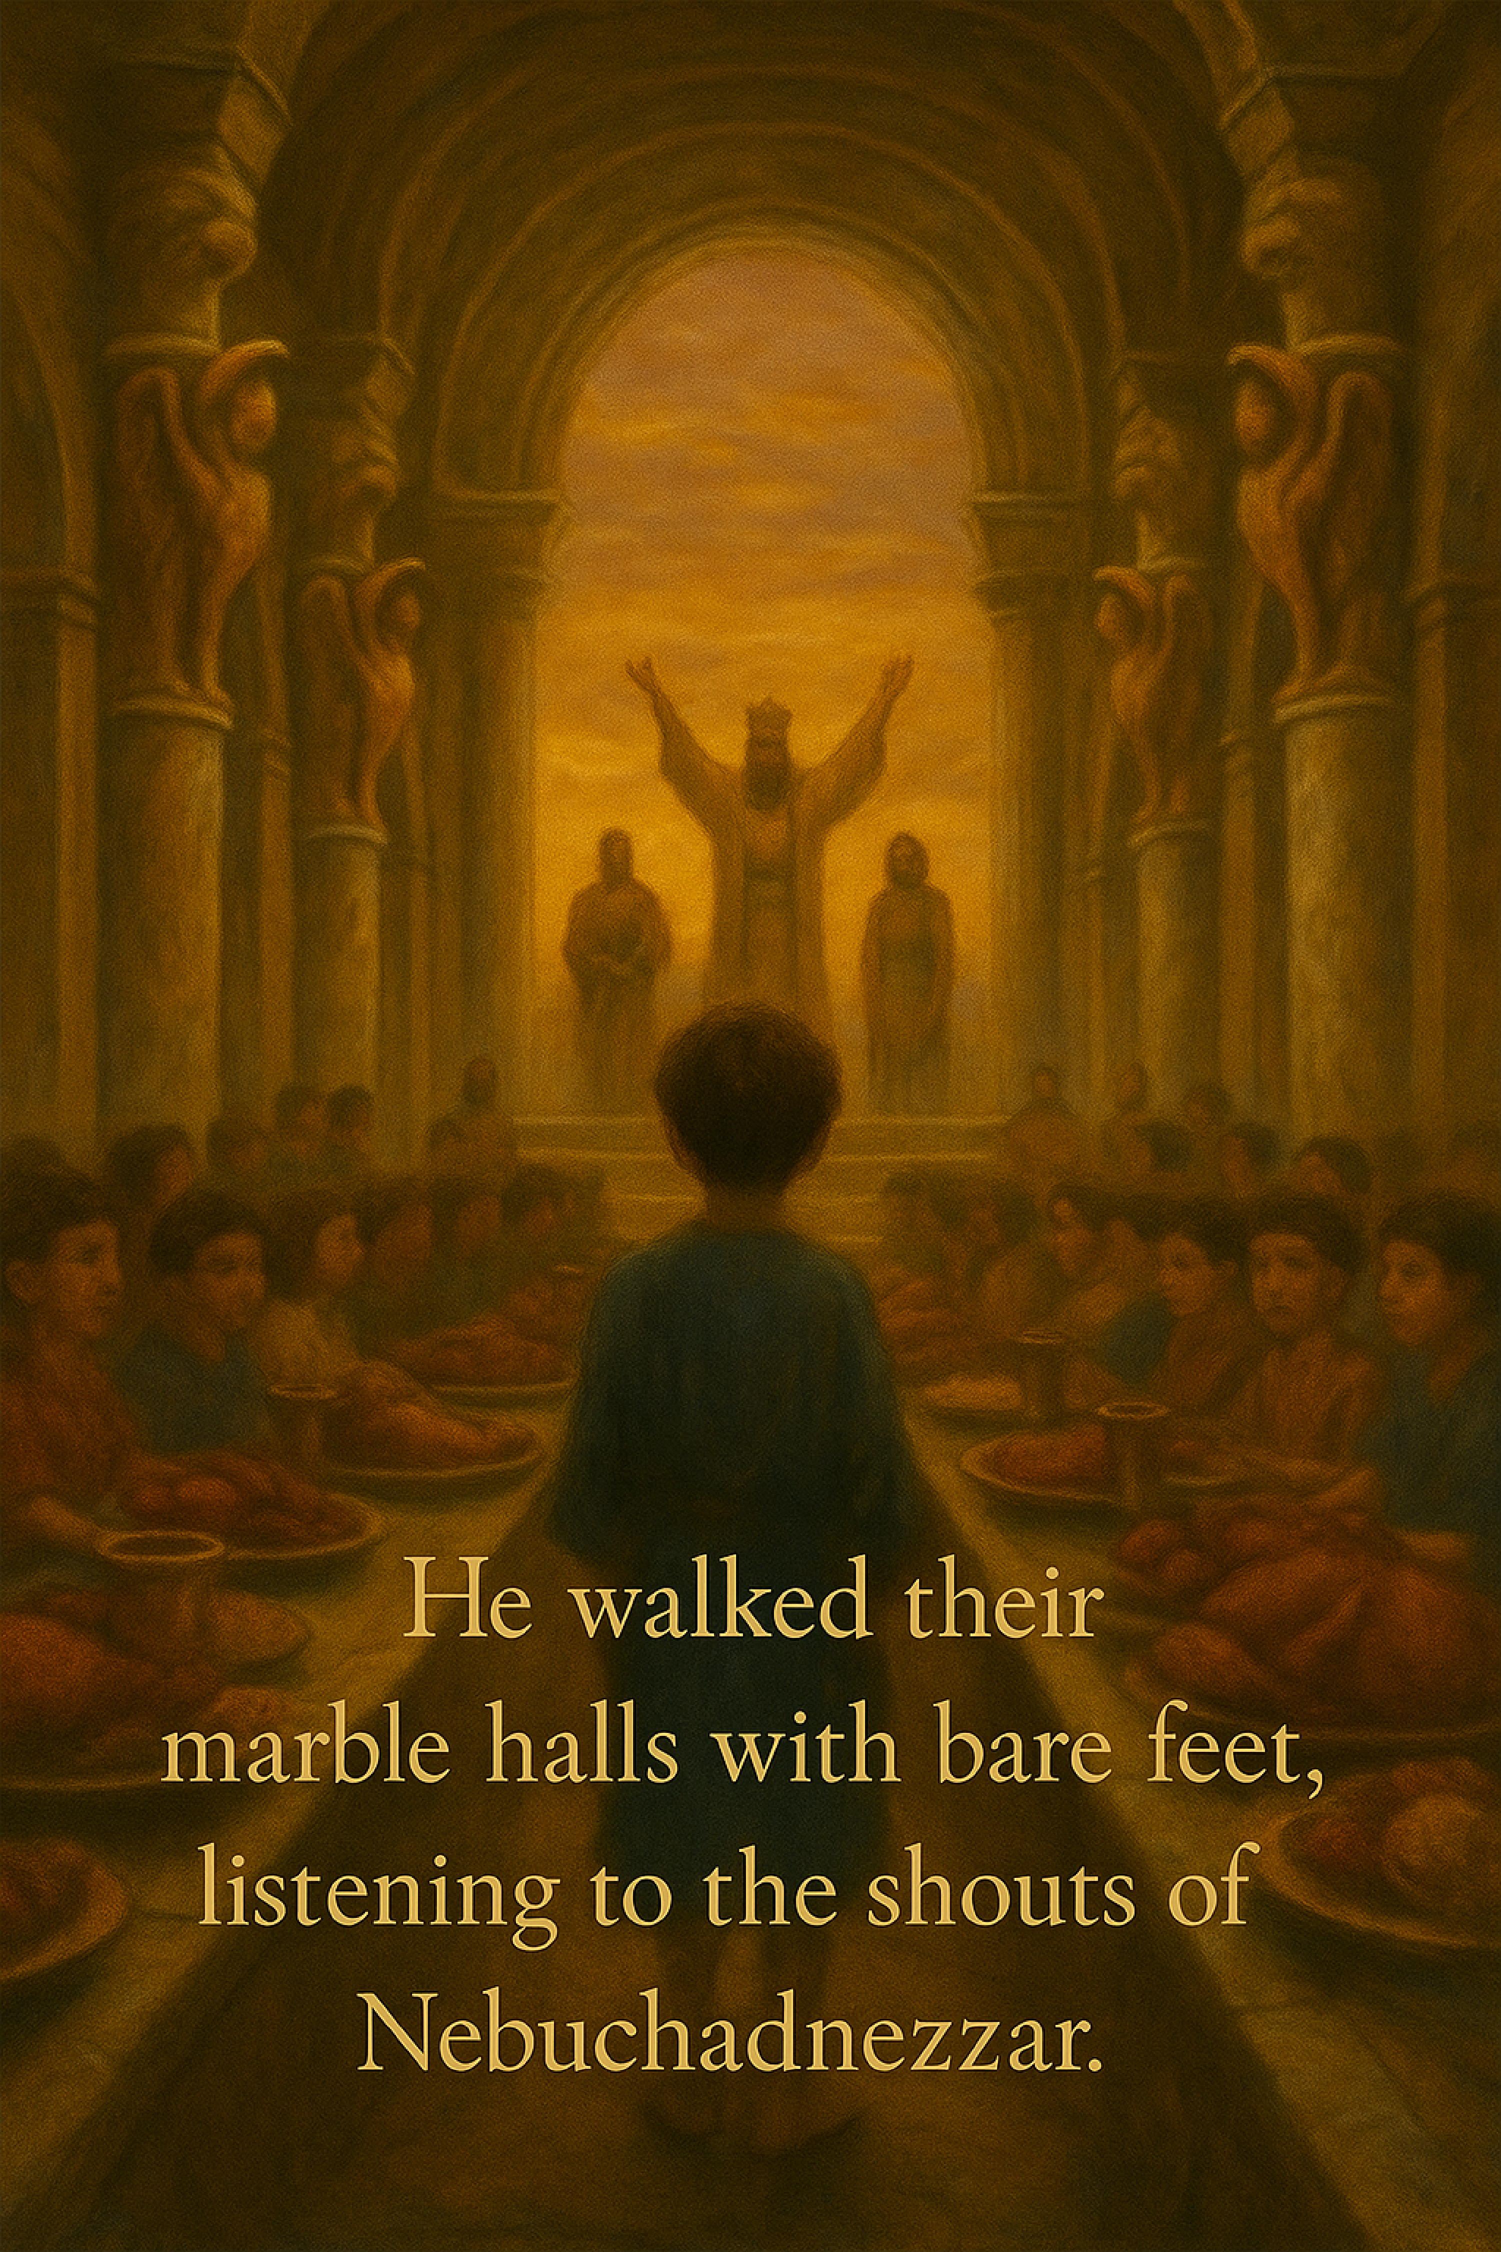


They said the boy was strange.
Too quiet for a kingdom,
too bright for a dungeon.

So they sent him away



to a s school where wonder
burned like candles,
where the wise forgot the wind.



He walked their
marble halls with bare feet,
listening to the shouts of Nebuchadnezzar.

He came in like a spy,
rejecting the glory of men,
and walked with the Spirit.

Then the Lord showed him

Fantastic Beasts

and where to find them.
